MORWELL MINE FIRE

Smoke and ash from the Morwell mine fire are affecting air quality. The Victorian Government is dedicating significant resources to the firefighting effort, to monitoring air-quality and to community services.

FIRE SITUATION

The emergency services are focused on extinguishing the fire, but this could take several weeks. Emergency services staff are providing information in Morwell and surrounding communities to keep residents informed. For up-to-date information about the fire situation: visit emergency.vic.gov.au call 1800 240 667 download the FireReady app

AIR QUALITY

The EPA has installed monitoring stations to measure the impact of smoke and ash on local air quality to minimise risks to the community and firefighters. The EPA will issue a smoke advisory notice when air-quality levels require action to be taken.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

It is important to reduce your exposure to the smoke and ash and to protect those most at risk, especially children, the elderly, pregnant women, smokers or those with a heart or lung condition. Where possible, stay indoors and keep windows closed or take a break away from the smoke-affected areas. Continue to take prescribed medication or follow your asthma plan in line with medical advice.
