

Hazelwood Mine Fire Community Information

Victorian Government and Latrobe City Council staff are working to provide information and support to people affected by smoke and ash.

COMMUNITY ASSISTANCE

The Victorian Government is providing a $2 million community assistance package to help Morwell residents begin their clean-up of ash left by the Hazelwood mine fire.

The package includes vouchers for laundry and car cleaning, access to special cleaning equipment and support for residents who need help to clean up.

For more information on the clean-up package, contact Latrobe City Council on 1800 017 777 or visit latrobe.vic.gov.au.

CLEANING UP ASH

The materials in the ash from this fire are similar to what is in the soil in your garden and the ash you'd find in a fireplace.

Ash can be safely dug into your garden or added to compost. Ash can also be placed in a plastic bag or other container and then put in your household garbage bin.

Ash can irritate the skin, eyes and throat, but this effect will pass once the dust is gone. Wear gloves, long sleeved shirts and long pants to stop ash sticking to your skin and wear glasses or goggles to stop ash getting into your eyes. If there is a lot of dust, wear a facemask.

If you have an existing heart or lung condition, such as asthma, breathing in dust while cleaning up could make that condition worse, so it's best to get help to clean and avoid the ash.

Information and advice about cleaning up ash is available from:

HEALTH INFORMATION

The Chief Health Officer has lifted the temporary relocation advice, and people can now return to their homes and workplaces.

People aged 65 and over, children under school age, pregnant women, and anyone with an existing heart or lung condition should avoid cleaning up ash. The ash isn't toxic, but breathing in fine particles can aggravate heart or lung conditions.
