

The area studied.

From the previous health studies we had done we knew there was a rise in respiratory problems associated with the smoke layers and a corresponding rise in neurological symptoms (Headaches, Disorientation and Cognitive).

